

The GT Day organised by the Singer Car Club

Sunday 8 November 2015

The weather was lovely and we all met at the car park at Frankston on the Bay. We were possibly one of the last to arrive and after about twenty minute we all set forth on an observation run to Tooradin for morning tea.

This, as the organiser said, was going to be interesting as some of the turns were not accurate.

That may have been an under-statement as one turn said turn left when it should have been right! Some of the group had to ask for directions while others resorted to GPS, but all in all everybody made it to morning tea. .

Then onto the Tyabb Packing House Antique Centre for about an hour. Too short a period to do it justice but enough to make you want to go back. The trip to Tyabb was another observation run.

Then onto Claverton Park for lunch at a private property. We were all taught the basic skills of archery and croquet by an enthusiast before a contest was had between all present. This led to some good banter between clubs and added to the occasion.

We enjoyed a lovely BBQ meal with dessert, tea and coffee.

The trophy for the day was won by newcomers to rallies from the Sunbeam Car Club.

It was great to see a good mix of cars from the Singer Car Club, Sunbeam Car Club, Rootes Group Car Club, and the Humber Car Club, with about 14 cars in total from both the pre-war and post-war periods.

We had a thoroughly enjoyable day. It was good to get out and do something different and fun.
